“The technology allows players to respond to the unexpected, regain possession of the ball and form a familiar passing pattern, even against the odds,” said Craig Eason, Senior Producer. “We’re not just making a video game, we’re re-defining football. The unique responsiveness of the new gameplay engine makes for a game that truly feels like you’re in possession of the ball.” Additional gameplay features include the formation and selection of your own team, All-Stars and My Player mode, in-depth match preparation, improved legacy, in-game language support and the ability to create your own stadiums. FIFA 22 features the following new gameplay features and updates: COMPLETE NEW DASH CAM TECHNOLOGY: With QuickTime Activated Play, the player will be able to run directly into the on-screen actions of the game. Players can use QuickTime to play a defender from just inside their own half to stop a counterattack and discover an open lane for their own attack. Players can also sprint forward and decide to dribble through open space to receive a cross or hold-up play. QUESTIONABLE COMBINATIONS: New tactical interactions take players into new areas of the pitch and give them a unique position to use the ball. With Pass and Move AI, FIFA 22 combines playmaking abilities from the pitch with the intelligence and precision of an AI manager. With many of the most influential footballers available to you, you’ll have the freedom to create footballing feints and situations that your opponents won’t be expecting. AI MANAGERS’ RESPONSE TO YOUR PLAY: With deep-rooted playmaking instinct, the AI managers react to your tactics and formations, creating the best pass routes as you attack. In-game manager AI is influenced by pitch characteristics, formations, player load, ball position and in-game settings. This makes each game unique. The AI will use an organised retreat, steal the ball from pressure with skillful combination play and move across the opposition’s defensive lines, making it more likely that you’ll find the open spaces you’re looking for on the field. “FIFA’s gameplay engine has been transformed and adapted to allow us to bring the most immersive FIFA experience yet,” said Kai Nagemann, FIFA Lead Gameplay Designer. “The pass-and-move AI
